The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday June 27. to Saturday July 1. 1727.

St. James's, June 29.

THIS Day the following Addreſs of the Univerſity of Cambridge, was preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Somerſet their Chancellour, accompanied by the Vice-Chancellour, the Biſhops of Rocheſter, Ely, Lincoln, Norwich, Lichfield and Coventry, and Chicheſter, with a great Number of Heads of Houſes, Doctors, and Maſters of Arts, all in their proper Univerſity Habits.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE come with Hearts full of Affection to your Majeſty, to congratulate your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, and to condole with you for the Loſs of your Royal Father, our much honoured and much loved King and Patron, whoſe Memory will be Sacred and Precious in your Univerſity of Cambridge as long as Gratitude continues to be the Vertue of generous Minds.

Under this Loſs, our greateſt Comfort is in the Proſpect now before us, of happy Days from your Majeſty's known Love of the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of this Kingdom, and from the Proofs we have ſeen of your many Great and Royal Vertues.

As the loweſt of your Subjects may learn, from your Example, how to obey their Sovereign; ſo we doubt not but your Majeſty's Reign will, one Day, be a Leſſon to the greateſt Princes how to make themſelves and their People happy.

From your Majeſty's great Wiſdom, and long Experience of your People, we have conceived Hopes of ſeeing that happy State in your Days, which your Royal Predeceſſors could only wiſh for in theirs: That Party Diſtinctions being laid aſide, all may unite in affectionate Loyalty to their Sovereign, and hearty Endeavours for the Preſervation of our Conſtitution in Church and State.

Towards the accompliſhing this glorious Work, may your Majeſty never want the Hands and Hearts of your People: Ours ſhall never be wanting.

We ſhall always ſtrive to be among the Foremoſt to pay all Duty to your Majeſty, and to ſet an Example of chearful Obedience to our Fellow-Subjects.

When we view your Majeſty at the Head of a great Nation which loves you: Happy in a Royal Conſort, whoſe Vertues have long deſerv'd a Crown, and have render'd it doubtful, Whether ſhe is more admired or more beloved by your People: Bleſſed with a numerous and hopeful Iſſue, ſo formed to Virtue by Birth and Education, that we juſtly eſteem every Branch of your Royal Family as a certain Pledge of our Country's future Happineſs and Glory. What can we further wiſh your Majeſty, or ourſelves, but the Continuance of theſe Bleſſings, and that you may live for many Years beloved by your People, and reverenced by all the Nations round you.

Given under our Common Seal, the 23d Day of June, Anno Dom. 1727.

To which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to return the following moſt gracious Anſwer.

THIS Addreſs from my Univerſity of Cambridge, ſo full of Duty and Affection to my Perſon and Family, is very acceptable to me. The good Examples of Loyalty in the Univerſity, and the Influence which you have over the Youth of the Nation, will greatly conduce to the preſerving all my Subjects in an entire Affection to me and my Government, and will entitle you, on all Occaſions, to my Favour and Protection.

His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive them very graciouſly, and they had all the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand.

They

[Price Three Pence.]

They afterwards waited on the Queen, and his Grace the Duke of Somerſet made their Compliments in a Speech to Her Majeſty, to which her Majeſty was pleaſed to return a very gracious Anſwer, and they had all the Honour to kiſs Her Majeſty's Hand.

The following humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Cheſterfield, Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber, in the Abſence of the Right Honourable the Earl of Derby. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, High Sheriff, Deputy Lieutenants, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County Palatine of Lancaſter.

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your Sacred Majeſty, to expreſs our Concern for the Death of our late King George, your Majeſty's Royal Father, of bleſſed Memory; and at the ſame Time to acknowledge, with humble and ſincere Affection, our hearty Obedience to your Majeſty, as our lawful and rightful Sovereign.

Your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration, that the Religion, Laws and Liberties of the Kingdom are moſt dear to you, and that the Preſervation of our Conſtitution in Church and State ſhall be your firſt and chief Care, cannot fail of giving full Satisfaction to the Minds, and rejoycing the Hearts of your People, with a moſt aſſured Proſpect of an auſpicious Reign; which that Heaven may long continue to the Glory of your Majeſty and for the Safety and Happineſs of theſe Nations, ſhall ever be the Prayers of your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and obedient Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Burgeſſes, and Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wallingford in the County of Berks, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Henry Stevens, Eſq; their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Cheſterfield Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Burgeſſes, and Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wallingford in the County of Berks.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful Subjects, humbly crave Leave with ſincere Hearts to congratulate your Majeſty's Succeſſion unto the Throne of your Anceſtors.

Your Majeſty's princely Behaviour during your Reſidence here, with your Royal Declaration, ſufficiently convince us of your Reſolutions to ſupport and maintain the Religious and Civil Rights of your Subjects, and particularly our eſtabliſhed Religion with all the Advantages that can be reaſonably deſired of a moſt Gracious Sovereign.

Wherefore we take this Occaſion to aſſure your Majeſty of our Faith and conſtant Obedience to your Majeſty, and a chearful and hearty Readineſs, under the happy Influence of your Government, to be employed for the Support thereof againſt all your Enemies to the utmoſt of our Power. And we heartily pray for your Majeſty's long and healthy Life and Reign, attended with all Happineſs, eſpecially of your Royal Conſort and Royal Iſſue, as alſo of the unanimous Affections of your Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs of the Town and Borough of Great Marlow, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Sir John Guiſe, Bart. one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The humble Addreſs of the Town and Borough of Great Marlow.

YOUR Majeſty's moſt dutiful Subjects, Inhabitants of this Place, do with the moſt profound Reſpect, beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty upon your Acceſſion to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms, humbly returning our Thanks to God, that when He thought fit to take from among us our late moſt gracious King your Royal Father, he was pleaſed to give us your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon in his Stead.

All your Majeſty's Actions have ſhewn us, that your Majeſty has a Heart truly Engliſh, and love this your People; a ſure Promiſe of the Proſperity we ſhall enjoy under your Majeſty's Royal Protection and Gracious Government.

May your Majeſty long Reign over us. We know your Majeſty will make us happy; and we ſhould be moſt ungrateful, could we ever forget to return your Majeſty our moſt bounden Duty and Obedience, or become other than moſt affectionate and loyal Subjects to the greateſt and beſt of Kings.

The following humble Addreſs of the Grand Juries for the County of Middleſex, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Sir Thomas Croſſe, Bart. Foreman of the Grand Jury for the Hundred of Oſſulſton, accompanied by ſeveral of the Grand Jury, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The

The humble Addreſs of the Grand Juries for the County of Middleſex.

May it pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen of the Grand Juries for the County of Middleſex, beg Leave to approach your Royal Perſon, humly to condole with your Majeſty on the Loſs of our late moſt Gracious Sovereign, and at the ſame Time to congratulate your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne.

The glorious Succeſs of your Majeſty's Forces by Sea and Land, obtained under your late Royal Father, hath given us, and all your Subjects, and indeed all Europe, the higheſt Proſpect of a glorious and laſting Peace, which we truſt will be effected by your conſummate Wiſdom.

We deſire, in the humbleſt Manner, to expreſs our grateful Senſe of, and unfeigned Thanks for your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration, that the Preſervation of the Conſtitution in Church and State, as it is now happily eſtabliſhed, ſhall be your firſt, and always your chief Care.

So that there remains nothing for us to wiſh, but that your Majeſty may be bleſſed in a happy, long, and peaceful Reign over a dutiful, affectionate, and flouriſhing People;

And that there may never be wanting a Prince of your illuſtrious Houſe to ſway the Scepter of theſe Kingdoms.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, Commonalty, and Inhabitants of the Town and County of Poole, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Benjamin Scutt, Eſq; Mayor of the Borough, by George Trenchard, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, and Dennis Bond, Eſq; their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

AMidſt the great and univerſal Concern and Surprize, permit us, the Mayor, Bayliffs, Burgeſſes, Comonalty, and Inhabitants of your Town and County of Poole, to expreſs ours, for the Loſs of his late Majeſty of Glorious Memory, and our common Father.

The Knowledge and Experience your People have had of your Goodneſs, and of your Concern for the Welfare of theſe Nations, raiſeth in us a juſt Value for the Happineſs we are to enjoy under the Government of a Prince equal to the Weight of a Crown.

May it long flouriſh on your Head, and may your Illuſtrious Line be continued a Bleſſing to us, the Favourites of Heaven, the Love and Glory of your People, and theſe your Kingdoms.

Done at the Town-Houſe, this 19th Day of June, 1727.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Maſters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Thomas Edwards, jun. Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Maſters and Burgeſſes of the City or Borough of Wells.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to offer this early Tribute of Duty and Allegiance, to recognize your Majeſty's undoubted Right to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms, and to congratulate your happy Acceſſion to the Throne.

The Loſs this Nation ſuſtained by the ſudden and unexpected Death of our late Gracious Sovereign, of bleſſed Memory, in the midſt of his wiſe Engagements to promote the Honour, Intereſt, and Security of his People, had been unſpeakable; but your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration of Love and Affection to this Kingdom, your moſt generous Concern to cheriſh and preſerve our eſtabliſh'd Religion, Laws, and Liberties, and to ſettle the Tranquility of Europe, are happy Preſages, that the compleating theſe great Deſigns of your renowned Predeceſſor, is reſerved by Providence to be one of the Glories that ſhall illuſtrate the Commencement of your Majeſty's auſpicious Adminiſtration.

After theſe Royal Aſſurances, what can your faithful Subjects deſire farther, than that God will grant your Majeſty a long, proſperous, and peaceable Reign over us, which is the unfeigned Prayer of,

Great Sir,

Your Majeſty's moſt loyal, dutiful, and obedient Subjects.

In Teſtimony whereof we have cauſed our Common Seal to be hereunto affix'd, this 20th Day of June, in the Firſt Year of your Majeſty's Reign.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgeſſes, Aſſiſtants, and other Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Wareham, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Denis Bond, Eſq; the Recorder of the ſaid Borough, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

IT is impoſſible for us, the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgeſſes, Aſſiſtants, and other ther Inhabitants of your Ancient Borough of Wareham, to expreſs the Concern that is in our's as well as in the Heart of every Loyal Briton, on the ſurprizing and melancholly Occaſion of your Royal Father's Demiſe, whoſe Memory will ever be dear to the real Lovers of Virtue and Liberty.

The early and repeated Inſtances given to your People of your Regard for their Happineſs, is to them an Earneſt of the great and many Advantages which they are to expect from your Government.

May you long Reign in the Love and Affections of your Subjects (the leaſt Reward due to your Merit) and may you and your illuſtrious Family in this and future Ages, continue to be the Guardians of our Religious and Civil Rights.

The following humble Addreſs of the Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Ludgerſhall, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Anthony Corniſh, Eſq; one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Inhabitants of the Ancient Borough of Ludgerſhall.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

THE univerſal Joy expreſt by your People on your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, is a ſenſible Bleſſing to us your moſt dutiful Subjects.

The Chearfulneſs and Satisfaction that appears in all Places, can only be founded on the Experience we have had of your moſt excellent Qualities.

We are perſwaded that your Majeſty's Care and Concern for the Trade of this Nation, will greatly encourage the Woollen Manufacture, on which our Proſperity depends.

Permit us alſo, Great Sir, to expreſs our Gratitude for the Eſtabliſhment of the Hanover Succeſſion by the glorious and immortal King William; to mention likewiſe on this Occaſion the high Obligations we have to his late Majeſty your moſt illuſtrious Father, of Bleſſed Memory, who ſo well guarded theſe Realms for you.

Our Laws, Religion and Liberties will ever be ſafe under your Protection; and your princely Reſolution will defend us from the Inſults of foreign Enemies.

May the Piety of her Majeſty your Royal Conſort, bleſs'd with a numerous Iſſue, continue the Influence of Divine Providence on your ſacred Perſon and your Kingdoms, is the conſtant Prayer of,

Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful, and moſt loyal Subjects.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgeſſes, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, in the County of Devon, has been preſented to his Majeſty by Lewis Stucley, Eſq, their Recorder, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly, and the Recorder had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgeſſes, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, in the County of Devon.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgeſſes, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of Bideford, humbly preſume to condole, with your Imperial Majeſty, on the Death of your Majeſty's Royal Father, our late moſt Gracious King.

Our Loſs and Affliction would be inſupportable, did not your Majeſty ſucceed to your moſt illuſtrious Father, and did not his Virtue and Goodneſs ſtill continue to us in your Royal Self.

When your Majeſty was Regent under your Royal Father, ſo good and glorious was your Government, that it gave a delightful Proſpect of all Happineſs and Proſperity in your Future Reign.

Your Majeſty's hearty Love and Affection for Great Britain, your Study and Knowledge of its Conſtitution, your Care of its Revenue, your Perſonal Examination of Publick Affairs, and your ſtrict Regard for the Rights and Liberties of all your Subjects, muſt render your Majeſty ever dear and valuable to them, and for ever engage them, by the ſtricteſt Ties of Intereſt and Gratitude, to all Loyalty and Obedience to the beſt of Kings.

May your Majeſty enjoy a very long and very proſperous Reign; and when Heaven ſhall advance you to greater Glory, that the Bleſſings of your happy Reign may be perpetuated to Great Britain, by a conſtant Succeſſion of the Crown in your Royal Family, is our hearty and united Prayer.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Oxford, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Montague Earl of Abingdon, their High Steward; Matthew Skinner Sergeant at Law, their Recorder; and Thomas Rowney, Jun. and Francis Knollys, Eſqrs. their Repreſentatives in Parliament; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, Lord of the Bed-Chamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Oxford.

Moſt

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of your ancient and loyal City of Oxford, with Hearts full of Gladness to approach your Sacred Person, and amongst the united Acclamations of your People, to offer their Tribute of Joy upon your Majesty's ascending the Throne of these Kingdoms.

We will not renew the Grief of our Sovereign, by presuming to mingle ours with the Royal Sorrow; but the Death of our late gracious Sovereign would, to us, have been a Loss insupportable, did we not look upon your Majesty as the Inheritor of his Vertues, as well as of his Crown.

Great and many are the Blessings we expect to enjoy under the Administration of a Prince, who, by an exact Observance of the Law whilst a Subject, has given us a full Assurance that he will make that Law, which was the Measure of his Obedience, the only Rule of his Government; who has always express'd and shewn a Love and Concern for the Interest and Persons of his English Subjects; who has assisted with his Councils, and influenced by his Conduct, all Actions calculated for the Publick Good; and who begins his most auspicious Reign by restoring to his People the Blessings of Peace.

May your Majesty, in Length of Days, and in the prosperous Event of all your Undertakings, exceed the Time and Reign of your most Royal Father; and in the Affections of your People may your Majesty surpass the most beloved of your Predecessors.

In Testimony whereof we have hereunto set our Common Seal, the 23d Day of June, in the First Year of the Reign of His Majesty George the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. Annoq; Dom. 1727.

The following humble Address of the Lord High Sheriff, Nobility, Justices of Peace, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, or Mid-Lothian, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Argyll. Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Lord High Sheriff, Nobility, Justices of Peace, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, or Mid-Lothian.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to embrace the very first Opportunity upon this great and sudden Event of the Death of our late most Gracious Sovereign, whose happy Memory will be Sacred to our latest Posterity, to express our Sense of the Goodness of Almighty God to these Nations, in raising up your Majesty to fill the Throne of your Royal Ancestors, to the inexpressible Joy of all your Majesty's loyal Subjects, and to assure your Majesty of our most hearty and sincere Affection to your Sacred Person and Royal Family, and of our firm and unalterable Resolution to support, maintain and defend, with our Lives and Fortunes, your Majesty's Government, as it is, for our Happiness, established by Law, in your Royal Protestant Family, the great Support of our Holy Religion, Liberties and Properties.

And as hitherto our Religion and Civil Rights have been most wisely and carefully preserved and maintained under the mild Government of your Royal Father, our late most Gracious Sovereign, both against the Attempts of Enemies Abroad, and of their Secret infatuated Abettors at Home, in Favours of an abjured Popish Pretender; so we pray that Almighty God may bless your Majesty in your Person and Government, with a long and prosperous Reign, inspire your Counsels with Wisdom, and crown them with Success, that still greater Glory may attend your most Auspicious Reign.

Your Majesty's perfect Knowledge of our Constitution in Kirk and State, and exact Acquaintance with the particular Circumstances and Conditions of your Subjects, your well known Love to this your Country and People, and your encouraging in them your favourite Virtues of true Valour, Honour and Justice, gives your Majesty the Hearts of your Subjects, and gives your Subjects full and entire Confidence in your Majesty.

May Almighty God bless and long preserve your Royal Consort, our most Gracious Queen, who blesses the Nation with so numerous an Issue; May his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and all the Royal Family, be always under the Divine Protection and Favour; and may we and our Posterity always be so happy as to have one of your Majesty's Royal Offspring to reign over us.

The following humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, has been presented to His Majesty by Archibald M'Aulay and Patrick Lindsay, Magistrates of that City, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Essex, Lord of the Bed-chamber to His Majesty in waiting. Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously, and they had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Edinburgh.

May it please your Majesty,

OUR Duty and Loyal Affection to your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government, and the great Happiness which your Majesty's being on the Throne of your Ancestors is to us, and all your People, could only only ſupport us under the Loſs of your Royal Father our moſt Gracious Sovereign.

The ſeaſonable Acceſſion of your Royal Father and Family to the Crown of Britain, gave us a ſenſible and joyful Proof of the Wiſdom of thoſe Acts, firſt made in the Reign of King William, of immortal Memory, whereby the Right and Poſſeſſion of the Regal Power was ſo well ſecured to your Majeſty's Houſe, which could only enjoy it agreeable to the true Conſtitution, and to the Welfare and Proſperity of the Britiſh Dominions; and now your Majeſty's happy Succeſſion does with no leſs Gladneſs give us a viſible Proof of our Felicity in your Royal Proteſtant Family, where ſuch a Father is ſucceeded by ſuch a Son, and whoſe numerous Royal Offſpring promiſe the ſame Bleſſing to our lateſt Poſterity.

Your Majeſty's Gracious Declaration to your Privy-Council anſwers our largeſt Expectations of a good and glorious King, that were juſtly raiſed in us by the Royal Virtues, which with Delight we beheld in your Majeſty as Prince of Wales: It is not only an Earneſt of our future Happineſs, but being made by a King of ſuch Royal Honour and Virtue, puts us in Poſſeſſion of our Felicity.

May the Great Things of your Reign, for the Support, Vindication and Enlargement of the true Proteſtant Intereſt at Home and Abroad, for the Maintainance and Encreaſe of the Power and Wealth of your Dominions, for the Dignity and Honour of your Royal Family, and for defeating all the Deſigns and Attempts of the abjured Popiſh Pretender, and every other Enemy; be ſuch as may even obſcure the Luſtre of the moſt eminent of your Predeceſſors, and even render leſs obſervable the Glory of the Reigns ſince the late bleſſed Revolution; may your Royal Conſort, and his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales (who has honoured this City, by adding its Name to his Titles) and all your Royal Progeny, continue to be a Bleſſing to your Majeſty and to your Kingdoms.

Theſe are the warm and ardent Wiſhes of your Majeſty's City of Edinburgh, whoſe Glory it is to have been firm to the Intereſt of your Family and Government in all Times; and we beg Leave to add our fervent Prayers, that your Majeſty's Reign may be ſo peaceable and proſperous, as to afford no ſignal Occaſion for our being remarkable for our Loyalty; and at the ſame Time, ſuffer us, Great Sir, with the deepeſt Submiſſion and Truth, to aſſure your Majeſty, that from Principle, and our Duty to God and to you, from an unviolable Regard to the Church of Scotland by Law eſtabliſhed, and the Good of our Native Country, we are ready on every Occaſion that may offer, to give the moſt real Proofs (from which no Danger ſhall, thro' Divine Grace deter us) That we are,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt loyal, moſt faithful, and dutiful Subjects and Servants,

The Lord Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of your City of Edinburgh.
